Product description

This high-quality Porsche PCCB ceramic brake disc for the rear axle, right side, is an essential spare part for a wide range of Porsche models. Specially designed for the 996 C4S, Turbo, GT2, GT3, 997 C2S, C4S, Turbo, GT2, GT3, 991 C2S, C4S and Panamera G1 970 models, this brake disc guarantees optimum braking performance and increased safety under a wide range of driving conditions.

The brake disc is made of high-quality ceramic material, which is known for its durability and resistance to high temperatures and wear. This material also helps to reduce the weight of the vehicle, resulting in improved handling and efficiency. The OEM numbers for this brake disc include 99135203201, 298615602C, 298615602, 99735203201, 99735203200, 99635203204 and 99635203203, confirming their compatibility with original Porsche parts and allowing for easy installation.

The condition of the product is marked as "used", but it is in very good condition with minimal signs of use or storage. This represents a cost-effective solution without compromising on quality or performance.

This product is ideal for Porsche owners who value original parts and optimum vehicle performance. The ceramic brake disc offers exceptional braking power and is a reliable choice for anyone who wants to operate their vehicle safely and efficiently under extreme or everyday driving conditions.
