Product description

This side panel for the rear axle, right, is a replacement part specially developed for the Porsche 911 model 992. The OEM number of this high-quality part is 992505064A, confirming its authenticity as an original Porsche replacement part. It is a new, unused and undamaged product, supplied directly by Porsche as an original part.

This side panel is crucial for the structural integrity and aesthetic completeness of the vehicle. It plays an important role in maintaining the aerodynamic properties and overall vehicle dynamics. Installing this original part ensures that the vehicle specifications and performance standards set by Porsche are maintained.

The use of original parts such as this side panel not only ensures a perfect fit but also maintains the vehicle warranty, as there are no compatibility issues that can often occur with replica parts. This part is an excellent choice for owners of a Porsche 911 model 992 who value quality, performance and durability.
