Product description

This removable ball head for the tow bar is specially designed for Porsche Cayenne models E1/955 and E2/958. The OEM number for this product is 95872202300, which confirms its authenticity and compatibility with the vehicle models mentioned. This is a new, unused and undamaged original Porsche part that guarantees the highest quality standards and a perfect fit. The removable design of the ball head offers flexibility and convenience for Cayenne owners who want to tow a trailer without having a visible tow bar on their vehicle at all times. Installation is simple and can be carried out without special tools, making it easy to switch between trailer use and normal vehicle use. This product is ideal for Porsche Cayenne owners who value functionality and aesthetics. The ball head is robust and durable, designed to withstand the demands of everyday use while maintaining the integrity and appearance of your Porsche.
